

JUNIORS

French as a foreign language

» Public

Our Junior summer programme is aimed at foreign adolescents (12-17 years old). It combines a language course with creative workshops and sports activities.

» Objectives

This course aims at improving communication ability in French as a foreign language by:

- » reinforcing schools assets: grammar, reading, spelling, etc,
- » encouraging communicative interaction in social, cultural and sports situations,
- » discovering French culture in a multinational environment.

» Organisation

This programme is not open to beginners (minimum requirements: level A2 of the CEFR).

Monday to Friday: language course (9am-12pm), creative workshops (2pm-4pm), sports activities (4pm-6pm).

Excursion on Saturday.

Class and workshops take place in a school neighbouring CAREL. The students are divided into groups according to level (maximum 15 students per class). They receive a progress report and proof of participation at the end of the course.

Our courses are sampled on the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR). They focus on:

- » active and communicative approach (including class simulations and role plays in our studio).
- » intensive digital audio laboratory work.
- » personalised treatment of student's needs in our Multimedia resource centre.

» Adolescents accompanied by their parents.

Students who reside with their parents in Royan may choose to take only the course and workshops (lunches, sports activities and excursions are optional).

» Adolescents unaccompanied by their parents.

These students must participate in all activities (lunches included) and stay with a host family (single or double room, breakfast and dinner, packed lunch for Saturday excursion, full-board on Sunday).
